Ümit Aslim arrived in Nepal on 11 February, 2014. He contacted his family the previous day, mentioning that he purchased a trekking ticket for the Annapurna Circuit in Besi Sahar, issued for a 5 days period from 13-18 February. His trekking permit (TIMS) was issued for Annapurna Circuit, but strangely enough he purchased a TIMS card for 5 days only. Ümit's tourist visa was issued for 15 days only and according to Immigration Visa service section in Pokhara, he has not extended his visa. He missed his planned departure date by air on February 21. He had registered at Check Posts between Bhulbule and Humde. He reached Humde exactly on the day when his TIMS card expired. After that there was no further trace of any registration alongside the entire Circuit trek. Ümit's family are offering a reward of 50,000 Nepalese Rupees for the right lead. Ümit also has long black hair that might be worn in a pony tail or bun.
